Armed with their "Reading Toolkits" the students took turns reading to each other in groups. Some of our students even read to the principal, Kristen Reingold, as well as their teachers! As you can see from the photos, they are all doing a great job! Thank you Ms. Govits, Ms. Classey and Ms. Clarkin and Ms. Woolsey!

Forest Brook's Advanced Chorus performed at the grand opening of the new Stony Brook Children's Hospital this past weekend under the direction of Ms. Gina Koehler. The chorus performed a Disney Medley which went along beautifully with the hospital's new theme, "Under the Sea!"

Each year, Forest Brook participates in "Pennies for Patients" which directly benefits the children at Stony Brook Hospital. As a result of their participation, the Forest Brook Advanced Chorus was asked to perform.

Thank you to our beautiful chorus and their families for taking the time to be a part of such a wonderful event!

MIDDLE SCHOOL ENL STUDENT PARTICIPATES IN A “POSTCARD EXCHANGE”

At Hauppauge Middle School, Miss Femia's 3rd Period ENL Class participated in a Postcard Exchange! Her English as a New Language (ENL) student, Elsayed Elmonshed, was able to write postcards to other ENL students across the United States! They received postcards from 20 different schools in 13 different states. They also received one postcard from Canada!

Elsayed said that his favorite part “was putting postcards on the map.” He learned about the different parts of a postcard, and he enjoyed looking at the pictures from the different states.

Miss Femia teamed up with another teacher from Illinois who coordinated this project. She said, “this is such a great way for English Language Learners to practice their reading, writing, listening, and speaking skills. It also helps them to feel connected to other students learning English across the United States.”

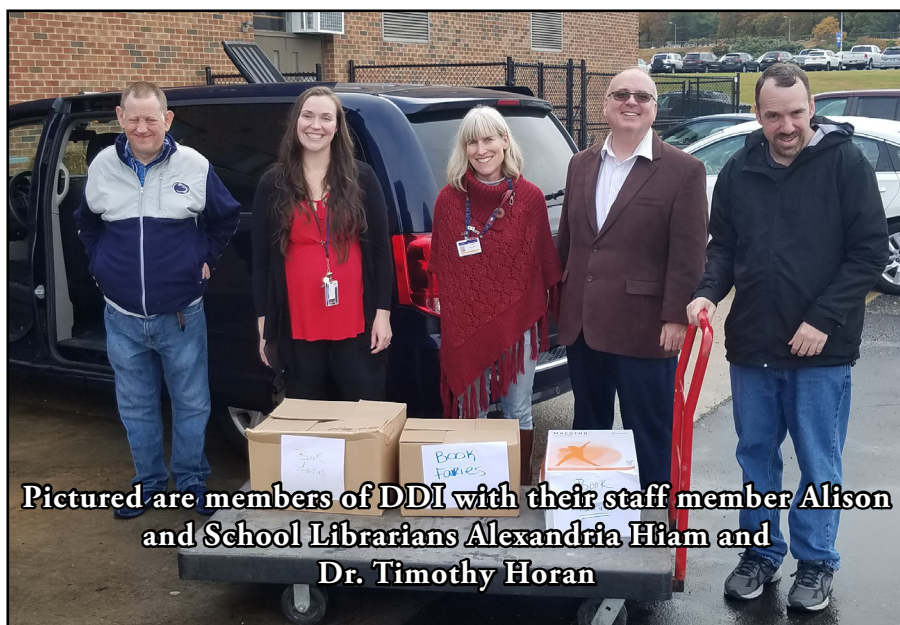

Elsayed is very proud to show how many friends he made from different states!

HIGH SCHOOL LIBRARY'S DISCARDED BOOKS GET A NEW LIFE THROUGH “BOOK FAIRIES”

As the High School Library has been updating its collection and changing its look, they have also been donating their discarded books to a wonderful organization called the “Book Fairies.” The goal of this organization is to increase literacy across the metropolitan New York area and beyond. More specifically, these donations help to serve underprivileged schools and organizations to build their school and classroom libraries, host free book fairs and more.

Currently, our books are being donated to MS 202 in Brooklyn, NY. We've been told the school is thrilled to be receiving these books. Adult residents of DDI (Developmental Disabilities Institute) have been assisting with the pickups of our donations. It is so wonderful to see that our books continue on to serve new readers!

MIDDLE SCHOOL SERVICE CLUB DOES SWEET WORK

Hauppauge Middle School’s “Helping Hands Community Service Club” recently collected 45 pounds of candy to send to the troops. Club advisors are Jennifer Saltzman and Maryann Visnius.

The club is open to all students who are interested and have the desire to help others in service to the community. This program provides the experience of planning and carrying out projects that would both better the school and the Hauppauge/Smithtown communities. Some activities are assistance to Care & Share, cleanups and planting around the building, school displays and bulletin boards, helping the elderly and other projects relating to children and senior community members.
